MINUTES OF MEETING ON STRATEGIES FOR INSTITUTIONAL GROWTH AND STUDENT RECRUITMENT HELD ON 2ND OCTOBER 2026 AT THE MANANER'S OFFICE

STAFF PRESENT

1. Olivia Alang'o: Manager
2. Boaz Ochieng: H.O.D ICT
3. Mary Earl Akinyi: Administrator
4. Vivian Okong'o: Support Staff

RTC-01/09/26/001: OPENING REMARKS

The meeting was called to order by the manager at 3pm. Highlighted reason for the meeting which was decreased number of clients, specifically students. She gave room for each member to air out their views on strategies to get more clients.

RTC-01/09/26/002: FINDINGS

Staff members in the meeting identified the following strategies to strengthen the college's marketing activities, expand its reach, and increase student enrolment.

2.1 Exploring New Outreach Areas

The college will use broadcasting channels such as Mayienga and Ramogi FM. These broadcasting channels are known be listened by majority, hence people from diverse areas will reached hence creating awareness of the college, identifying prospective students, and establishing new connections with the community.

2.2 Conducting Follow-Ups with Prospective Students

The team will conduct follow-ups with individuals who have previously been contacted or shown interest in the college's training programmes. The follow-ups will help establish whether the individuals intend to enroll, address any questions or concerns they may have, and encourage them to take the next step towards registration.

2.3 Designing and Distributing Promotional Flyers

The college will prepare attractive and informative flyers for use in advertising its courses and services. The flyers should communicate essential information, including the courses offered, duration of training, mode of study, location, and official contact details. They will be distributed strategically to increase awareness and encourage prospective students to make enquiries.

2.4 Engaging Microfinance Institution Officials
Microfinance officials have more experience in the field work, spends most time marketing hence they have more opportunities to interact widely with individuals from different places. The college saw this as an opportunity, and hence will seek to engage them to explore potential partnerships and promotional opportunities with commission-based payment on a condition if yielding become visible. These engagements may help the college reach entrepreneurs, business owners, young people, and other potential learners within the institutions' networks.

2.5 Promoting the College to Walk-In Clients
Staff members will take advantage of interactions with ordinary clients and other walk-in visitors to create awareness of the college's training programmes. Relevant flyers and brochures will be provided to clients, and brief explanations of the available courses will be offered. This approach will help ensure that the college's existing clients and visitors are also informed about its training opportunities and can refer interested individuals.

2.6 Scheduling Regular Field Outreach Days

The college will establish a regular fieldwork programme to ensure that promotional activities are conducted consistently. Designated staff members will visit targeted locations to distribute promotional materials, interact with community members, identify prospective students, and collect contacts for subsequent follow-ups.

The agreed fieldwork days are Tuesdays and Fridays for a start, and this will change once Ugunja town will have been exhausted.

2.7 Distributing Reflectors to Bodaboda Riders
The college will consider distributing reflective jackets or reflector materials to bodaboda riders as part of its community outreach and brand-awareness initiatives. Where appropriate, the items will bear the college's name, logo, or contact details to improve visibility.

This initiative will also provide an opportunity for staff to interact with riders and introduce them to the college's courses, while creating awareness among the wider community.

2.8 Erecting a Promotional Banner at Rangala Shop
The college will arrange for the erection of a promotional banner at Olivia’s cyber/bookshop in Rang’ala. The banner should be strategically positioned to attract the attention of passers-by and communicate the college's identity, available courses, and contact information.

RTC-01/09/26/003: MATERIALS TO BE USED DURING FIELD WORK

To ensure that fieldwork is professional, organized, and effective, the following materials and identification items will be required:

1. Branded T-shirts: To provide a uniform appearance and help members of the outreach team be easily identified as representatives of RuralNet Training College.
2. Notebooks: For recording prospective students' details, enquiries, feedback, referrals, and other relevant information obtained during field visits.

3. Pens: For recording information during outreach activities.
4. Identification Tags: To identify field officers and establish their official association with the college.
5. Promotional Flyers and Brochures: To provide information about the college, its courses, training duration, available study modes, and contact details.

All team members should ensure that they carry the necessary materials before leaving for field assignments. They should also present themselves professionally and communicate accurate information about the college.

RTC-01/09/26/004: FIELDWORK SCHEDULE

The meeting agreed that field outreach activities will be conducted twice a week, as outlined below:

Day	Activity
Tuesday	Field visits, community engagement, distribution of flyers and brochures, and identification of prospective students.
Friday	Continued outreach, follow-ups with prospective students, distribution of promotional materials, and assessment of the week's marketing activities.

The outreach team should plan its activities in advance, identify target locations, and maintain records of the people contacted during each field visit.

RTC-01/09/26/005 IMPLEMENTATION AND FOLLOW-UP

To ensure that the agreed strategies produce meaningful results, the following implementation measures are recommended:

- Preparation: Ensure that branded T-shirts, identification tags, notebooks, pens, flyers, and brochures are available before fieldwork begins.
- Targeting: Identify priority locations, businesses and community groups for outreach.
- Record-Keeping: Maintain a register of prospective students, their contact details, courses of interest, and follow-up status, subject to appropriate handling of personal information.
- Follow-Up: Contact interested individuals after field visits to answer questions and encourage enrolment.
- Partnership Development: Track engagements with microfinance officials and other potential partners.
- Progress Review: Review outreach activities regularly to establish the number of people reached, enquiries received, prospective students followed up, and enrolments resulting from the initiatives.

All staff members should support the implementation of the agreed strategies, participate in the scheduled fieldwork activities, and contribute to monitoring progress towards the college's growth objectives.

The meeting ended at 1530Hrs.
